WINTER RETURNED to Antioch this week Tuesday morning after a brief fall with almost spring-like weather for several days in this area....This photo taken last week shows Main St. after the big storm of Wednesday that dumped about 10 inches of the white stuff on the community at level spots. Winds piled drifts even higher in many places. This picture taken Thursday morning of last week indicates how high snow was piled by the street plows and sidewalk shovellers along the curb. Village plows and county equipment kept the roads and streets open. Snow stayed until after Christmas. (Antioch News Photo)

Have Child Photographed In Antioch Jan. 12 & 13

They grow up fast, don't they, folks? Why not let us help you preserve your memories by making an everlasting picture of your youngster in our "Kiddies Kalendar," a photographic feature to be published soon in the Antioch News? We've invited United Studios of Elkhart, Ind., an experienced children's studio, to take these special pictures for us. An expert children's photographer, equipped with the very latest in lighting, the new "speed" lights which eliminate all movement and floodlight glare, will be here Tuesday and Wednesday, Jan. 12 and 13.

The special studio will be set up at Odd Fellows hall above the Gamble store on Main St. in Antioch. It will be open from 12 noon to 8 p.m. both days.

These special lights, incidentally, enable the photographer to obtain natural expressions on children who ordinarily are frightened of bright lights.

There is no charge to the parents, absolutely no strings to our invitation. Parents do not have to be subscribers to the Antioch News nor even its readers.

Neither are they obliged to purchase pictures after they are taken. Selection of the pose to be printed in the Antioch News is left to the parents, at which time additional pictures may be ordered, if so desired, from representatives of United Studios.

Make our "Kiddies Kalendar" this year a big success, folks!

Remember the dates, Jan. 12 and 13, at Odd Fellows hall in Antioch from 12 noon to 8 p.m.

Don't miss this opportunity to see your children's pictures in print. Doll 'em up, and bring 'em in. If a definite appointment is desired, call Mrs. Jean Homan at Antioch 505-M evenings.

Christmas Home Decorating Contest Winners Are Listed

Snow Cleared Off Streets As More Flurries Appear

Antioch village crews last Tuesday morning started cleaning off downtown sidewalks of snow piled up by plows and sidewalk shovellers from the storm of last week that dumped about 10 inches of snow in the area.

Snow flurries were falling in this section Tuesday of this week with enough coming during the night Monday to lay an inch or so on the ground by the time people were up and around.

Warm weather and rain during the weekend and late last week had all but eliminated the heavy fall of snow of last Wednesday....This white blanket lasted through Christmas, however.

Earlier this week Tuesday, village crews were out sanding the streets so by the time heavy traffic was moving slippery places were covered.

Snow was melting and making the walking a bit messy. Winds last week caused some drifts of over a foot in depth and at times made driving difficult even with the plows at work. The winds also combined with cool temperatures to pack the snow down.

Plows were at work early in the morning last Wednesday and continued on village streets and nearby roads throughout that day. The snowfall continued from late in the evening Tuesday until late Wednesday evening.

The snow was steady and most of the time heavy, with only a brief break about noon Wednesday slowing up the storm.

'Blanket' Drive Slated Jan. 17 By Local Church

Bishop Charles W. Brashares of the Illinois Area of the Methodist Church has asked Methodist churches to collect blankets for refugees from Tibet, Northern Algeria, Korea and Japan.

The Illinois Council of Churches, of which Bishop Brashares is president, announced that the United Church Women of the state will direct the council-sponsored drive to "Blanket Illinois on Blanket Sunday," Jan. 17.

Blankets collected in this drive are to be trucked to the Church World Service collection point at Napanee, Ind., and air-freighted abroad.

The collection of blankets will be accompanied by a collection of the processing cost of 8 cents per pound.

Rev. Wallace Anderson, pastor of the Antioch Methodist church, announced Sunday, the drive will be conducted by the local church Sunday, Jan. 17.

General Offices For Boy Scouts Open In Glencoe

E. A. Schwechel, scout executive of the North Shore Area council, Boy Scouts of America, has announced that the general offices of the council are now located at 724 Vernon Avenue, Glencoe.

The new telephone number is VE 5-4124.

The council acquired through purchase on Dec. 17 the building formerly occupied by the Illinois Bell Telephone company.

Acquisition of its own office building follows a national trend with more than 200 councils acquiring buildings during the past five-year period.

Because of the continued growth of the council in membership and program, the council required larger office space which was not available on a rental basis.

The new office building will meet the needs of the council for the foreseeable future. The central offices will constitute the first floor with 2400 square feet.

Eighteen hundred square feet on the second floor will provide an all-purpose room for meetings, training programs, and other activities. A full basement provides ample space for work rooms and storage.

A series of open houses will be held to acquaint local scout leaders and others with the facilities. A formal dedication program is scheduled during Boy Scout week in February.

Taken To Hospital

Glen (Pat) Siedschlag of Channel Lake was taken to a Waukegan hospital early Tuesday morning by the Antioch rescue squad. His doctor reported he had symptoms of a heart attack.

Area Schools Resume Sessions Next Monday

School sessions at Antioch and vicinity buildings will resume at the usual hours Monday morning, Jan. 4, after the Christmas-New Year's vacation.

Classes were dismissed in most area schools last week Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons.

Most school activities, except for a dance at AHS last week Wednesday evening, were cancelled for the school vacation.

Church Lists Coming Events

Sacrament of holy communion will be observed in the Antioch Methodist church at both the 9:30 and the 11 a.m. worship services Sunday, Jan. 3. Rev. Wallace Anderson, pastor, announced this week.

The senior MYF met at the church at 2 p.m. last Sunday to go to the Lake Bluff Children's home to deliver articles collected as its Christmas project. The young people also toured the home.

Other coming events for the church include a meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service to be held in Wesley hall at 1 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 6.

The membership and evangelism commission of the church will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 7, at the church.

Monday, Jan. 11, will be the date of a meeting on the commission on missions. Time has been set for 7:30 p.m.

Candidates Inducted At K of C Ceremony

A large number of candidates was inducted into the Knights of Columbus at ceremonies in Antioch and Waukegan last Sunday.

Candidates from Libertyville, Waukegan, Grayslake, Fox Lake, McHenry and Barrington were inducted at St. Peter's hall in Antioch, while men from the lake shore cities were inducted at Waukegan.

St. Peter of Antioch K of C started Sunday by attending corporate communion services at Prince of Peace church in Lake Villa. Breakfast at Marty's followed this service.

Following the afternoon program a banquet was served at Smart's Country House near Antioch.

Moose Awards Five Prizes to Area Residents

Three somewhat surprised families in the Antioch area were presented with awards showing they were first, second or third in the Christmas home decorations contest sponsored by the Antioch Moose lodge.

Presentation was made Sunday evening by John Rohde and Robert Avery of the lodge after non-lodge members acting as judges picked the three best plus two honorable mentions.

First place went to the Leo Fox home located just off the Deep Lake road not far from the Oakland school.

The Lewis Van Patten home on Naber Ave. took second prize.

Third award went to the Walker Lyon home on Winsor drive.

Receiving honorable mention were the Chester Golonka home on the north shore of Loon Lake and the Carl Nadr home in Antioch.

Pictures of homes and decorations winning second and third prizes in the Moose lodge and Women of the Moose sponsored contest were crowded out this week. They will be published in next week's Antioch News.

The first three awards consisted of plates hand-painted by Mrs. Earl Hays of Antioch and surrounded by gaily colored Christmas wreaths. These had been on display in the Gaston Printing Co. (Antioch News) office windows.

Honorable mention winners received colored ribbons.

The contest was open to anyone interested whether living in the village or in the rural areas. Those living outside the village had been asked to notify the committee in charge by postcard.

In this way the judges knew just where to go outside town. All homes in the village, no matter how big or small their home Christmas display might have been, were viewed.

The judges preferred to remain anonymous as to their names.

Mrs. Avery of the Women of the Moose and Mr. Rohde of the Men of the Moose were in general charge of the contest. They are co-chairmen of the Moose lodge's civic affairs committee.

FIRST PRIZE in the Christmas home decorations contest sponsored by the Antioch Moose lodge and Women of the Moose went to this display at the Leo Fox home on Homer White road off the Deep Lake road not far from the Oakland grade school. The nativity scene in the foreground is well lighted with two spotlights. A bit larger figures than are used in many nativity scenes make the one at the Fox home quite realistic looking for the onlooker. The figures are quite distinct and large enough to stand out even from a distance. (Antioch News Photo)

A LAKE VILLA FIREMAN is shown as he raised a hoisting line to the roof of a building housing Wehr's Tavern and Grocery on highway 59 near the road leading to Petite Lake Highlands. The blaze Sunday evening damaged the rear of the roof, causing smoke-eaters some difficulty in getting at the blaze due to it being at the edge where wires were located....Two trucks from the Lake Villa fire station answered the call. A booster hose line brought the blaze under control. (Antioch News Photo)

DEAR READER News Editorials

A Happy New Year To You

Our "first winter" of the season didn't last long when nature went to work on it the end of last week.

But we hope the coming year of 1960 stays happy, prosperous and "new" for each and every one of you for every day of the 366. Antioch and vicinity has seen many improvements in the past 12 months and there is every indication that 1960 will be every bit as good if not better for the community.

Take it easy whether you are on the highway or at home. You will live longer and in the end enjoy life more.

Play, for that old saying of "all work and no play" still holds true even in this more modern age.

And remember the "Golden Rule."

Our staff "experts" on the international situation were mum this week so we had to turn to the national "experts." But they didn't help us either, nor did the state and county "experts."

So we must just look at the past year from a local standpoint and most of what we see has been good for us and for our community.

New homes, new families, new friends, new business, new "news," new advertisements—most everything new—and we hope better for all of you.

Happy New Year to all.

Santa Claus Visits Fox Lake Hills; Assessment Bills Due in 30 Days

By Jim Jankowiak

Fox Lake Hills Correspondent

FOX LAKE HILLS—Jolly Old Saint Nick was the big center of interest for the Hills residents this last week.

Christmas Eve afternoon, Santa Claus made the trip through all three units of the subdivision dispensing good cheer, HO, HO, HO's, and candy to his many followers.

Santa was preceded by Mick Riley's convertible honking its horn to announce that Santa was not far behind.

Santa came in a sleigh pulled by two ponies and passed out stockings of candy to each youngster who was along side the road waiting for him.

We wish to thank Harry Pavel of Ridgeview stables for donating his time, ponies and sleigh for Santa's coming.

Also, thanks to the Fox Lake Hills Property Owners association and the Ladies' auxiliary for buying the candy for the kiddies, and Harold "Santa" Riley for his fine portrayal of the Old Gentleman.

The Fox Lake Hills Property Owners Association held a brief monthly meeting last Monday. The session was shortened due to the pressure of the holidays.

Lindholm is now the delegate to the federation and Bob Wagner is the alternate.

Mike Heinlien was appointed chairman of the roads committee. His assistants will be Paul Gossel and G. Hamm.

Property owners will be receiving their billing assessments in the mail after the first of January. This is just the new name for the association dues.

As in the past, dues are $10 per year on improved property and $5 per year on unimproved land. These assessments are payable within 30 days after they are received. If they are not paid, liens will be placed against the property for the amount due. Those who thought they could get away with it last year know that the Association is not kidding.

This year there will be none of that failure to pay dues until ten months later. Liens will be filed if the assessments are not on the secretary's desk in approximately 30 days.

The Sports club and the board will hold a meeting in the near future to discuss problems arising from the club's proposed fishing derby.

The association has agreed to retain John Soffietti as its legal adviser during the forthcoming year.

Results of the contest on the best decorated homes in the subdivision during the Christmas season were as follows:

In Unit 1 the prizes went to (1) the Paul Giovanetti, (2) the Harry Carlsons and (3) the Mitchells.

In Unit 2 the winners were (1) the Harold Riley family, (2) the Ed Kuzierzs and (3), the Alex Mays.

Awards in Unit 3 were received by (1) the Arthur Mongeau family, (2) the Albert Simonsens and (3), the Paul Gossels.

Winners of this contest were judged by Mayor Joseph Armondo of Fox Lake and Ed Tiede, the Lake Villa township supervisor.

The Women's Auxiliary will hold its first meeting of the new year on Wednesday, Jan. 6, at the Holy Family church in the Chesney area.

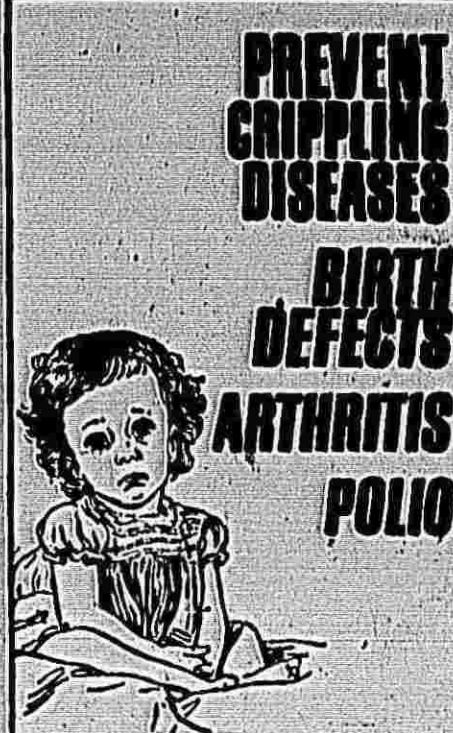

Members of the Sports club will hold their meeting on Jan. 7 at Ray's Resort beginning at 7:30 p.m. sharp.

At the Teen club meeting last Monday, plans were discussed for a big Christmas dance.

ROBERT DIEBALLS VISIT PARENTS

Lt. U. S. N. R. Robert Dieball, who was discharged from active service in the U. S. Navy Dec. 3, and Mrs. Dieball spent Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Dieball.

The lieutenant will be employed by the Camden County Planning board at Camden, N. J., as a landscape architect. Mrs. Dieball will teach in the Camden school. They plan to be home at 1543 Park Blvd. Apt. 13, Camden, after January 10.

Dr. Carlucci Heads 'Dimes' Drive Here

Dr. Richard Carlucci of 988 S. Main St., will serve as Antioch chairman for the 1960 New March of Dimes campaign, it was announced today by Atty Bruce E. Kaufman of Waukegan, Lake county campaign director.

Mrs. Joseph McGrath of Lake Villa will be in charge of the campaign in Petite Lake, Kaufman said. The Lake County chapter of the National Foundation, together with the 3,100 other chapters, will launch its annual fund appeal on Jan. 2.

They each will head a committee of volunteers in this community who will seek funds for the National Foundation's attack on polio, birth defects and arthritis.

These three cripples, the campaign director said, affect one in every four U. S. families.

Mrs. McGrath and Dr. Carlucci were among the volunteer workers invited to attend a recent pre-campaign dinner at the Adria restaurant in North Chicago.

The organization needs funds to continue its vast patient-aid program in the county, as well as money for the Foundation's nation-wide effort to provide scholarships for students interested in careers in medicine and related fields.

Medical research shares a large portion of the March of Dimes funds.

Ice Is 'Very Dangerous' on Lakes In Chain Area; Caution Is Urged

By Jim Jankowiak

The ice is very dangerous in most parts of the Chain at this time. Last week's snow did nothing but cover up the weak spots.

They are still there.

In the few places where the ice was safe enough to hold a couple of fishermen, there was some action.

Christmas Day, late in the afternoon a few fishermen were hauling in perch, bluegills and sunfish.

One of the old-time experts, Ed Kugel of rural Antioch, fishing off Fox Lake had a nice collection of perch and a few big bluegills.

Ed reports that he used red worms for bait and finds them to be just as good as, if not better than, mousies and weedworms. They are more economical, too.

Those artificial weedworms were tried last weekend, but although they bring on the nibbles, the fish rarely take a good bite.

The speculation is that they are too rough and rubbery for the smaller panfish.

Another bait to try when all else is devoured by the hungry fish is fish eyes. One on a hook makes a good emergency bait.

In fact, at this time of the year, anything which is either flashy or edible the fish will eat as long as they can get it into their mouths.

As was mentioned earlier this year, the ice is sometimes mushy near the shore and safe farther out. I noted that anglers were going out on to the lake by way of piers that were not taken in for the winter.

The offshore ice in the sheltered spots is between two and four inches thick, quite strong enough to hold several fishermen in a concentrated area.

No white bass (stripers) have been reported to be hitting yet in sizeable numbers. The run probably won't start till the middle of January for these silvery fish.

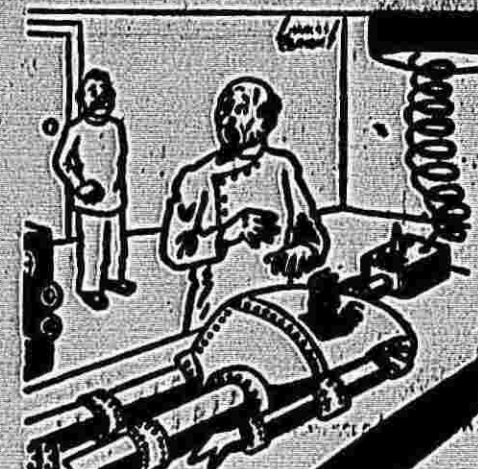

Along with the usual smaller panfish, crappies have been taking the bait. Most of them of good size.

The perch being caught are much smaller than usual, but once in a while a jumbo is caught.

Two fishermen on a side channel of Stanton bay on Saturday afternoon had a bucket full of perch of all sizes.

Areas too poor to support other crops will produce good pine plantations.

ATHS in Semi-Finals Of Fenton Tournament

BENSENVILLE — Antioch high was to meet Elmwood Park at 9:30 Tuesday night in the semi-final championship round of the Fenton invitational basketball tournament on the Fenton high school floor.

Earlier games that evening were to send Ela-Vernon against Fenton at 6:30 in the loser's bracket and at 8:15 in the winner's bracket Prospect was to play Glenbrook.

Saturday night Lake Park lost to Prospect 68-40 and Glenbrook edged Round Lake 68-62 in the opening round get-togethers.

Monday night in other contests, Elmwood Park took over Fenton 57-

55 in double overtime in first round games.

Ela-Vernon led by 1 point with two minutes to play in the game with the Sequoits Monday evening, but Antioch obtained the lead on two free throws by Ed Martin and a field goal by Jerry Dahliman to lead 68-66.

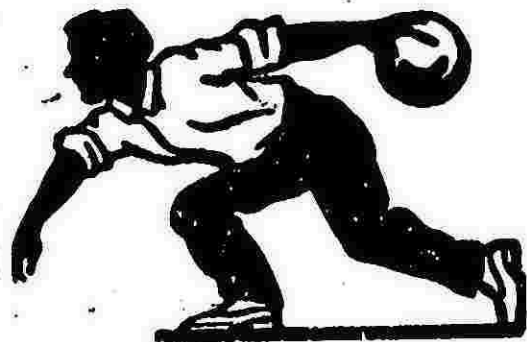

This came with about 1 1/2 minutes to play and the youth coached by Larry Leon played "ball control" after that to preserve their lead and a victory.

Antioch tried 33 free throws and made 22 while Ela-Vernon attempted 31 and made 24. In field goal attempts, the Sequoits shot 22 out of 69 for a .318 percentage and their foes made 21 out of 50 for .420 percentage.

Scores by quarters showed 20-14 for Ela at the first stanza, 32-27 at the half and Antioch was on top 53-51 at the third quarter.

Twenty-six points by the Sequoits in the third quarter to 19 for their foes told much of the victory story.

Grant Loses

By Jim Glendenning
Grant High Reporter

INGLESIDE — In the opening round of play in the Notre Dame of Niles holiday basketball tournament last Saturday evening, Grant high lost to St. Thomas of Rockford 56-50 in an overtime.

Although forced to play without 6 foot 5 inch Frank Riley, who was sidelined with the flu, Grant's Bulldogs control style of play prevailed until the final five minutes.

Regulation time for four quarters ended with the score tied at 48-48.

In the overtime, the Bulldogs were shut out until the final 2 seconds when Klein's jumpshot broke the tie.

Grant led 15-12 at the first quarter, 27-24 at the half and 41-37 going into the final period of play.
